Logo

At the heart of Trust's visual identity lies the 'T' emblem, a symbol that is more than just a letter, representing a human figure, underscoring our commitment to putting people first and our mission: to provide heating solutions that are not only technologically advanced but also deeply attuned to the human experience.

The Trust 'T' emblem and logomark are to be used in all instances, ensuring consistency across all brand communications.

emblem breakdown

- Upright Stance: The vertical line of the 'T' symbolises strength, stability, and reliability — qualities that Trust Electric Heating stands by. It's a pillar, supporting the warmth and safety of your environment.
- Arms Extended: The crossbar of the 'T' mimics arms extended outwards, embodying our open and inclusive approach. It represents our welcoming nature and our readiness to embrace and address the unique needs of each customer.
- Red and White States: The emblem's colour variations further enrich its symbolism. In

Primary logos

Our primary logos are the Mixergy emblem and logomark. These can be used in both navy and white (reversed) states. These will be used in most instances including on printed and digital collateral. The Mixergy gradient is also used – see page 4 for details – sparingly and to add emphasis to the brand where possible.

Strategy

We are market leaders in hot water tank innovation. We develop future proof, cost effective & sustainable solutions to enable people to take control of their energy consumption, reduce bills and optimise the use of renewable energy.

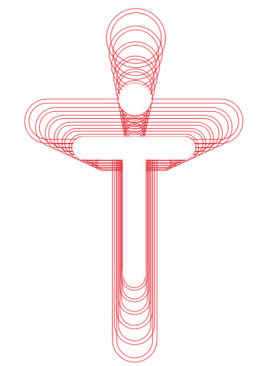

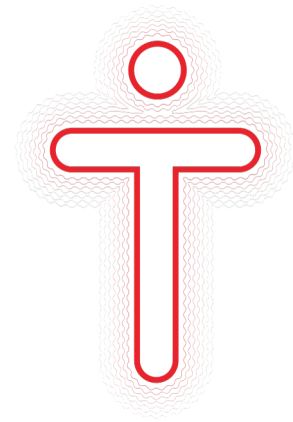

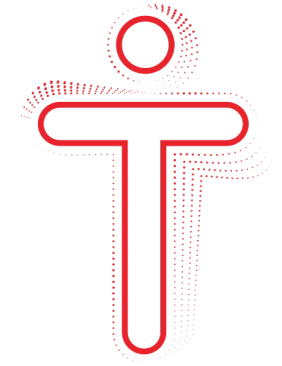

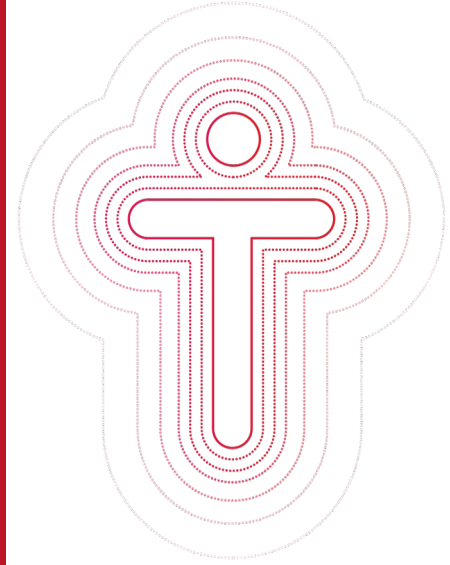

We aim to expand our market share across our key audiences not just by selling products, but by building long term relationships and customer experiences that people love. Our brand strategy is to connect and engage with people. Changing how they feel, their internal behaviours and becoming their companion along the way.
